Col. 5 which states that the District magistrate can empower a magistrate of the third class to take action under this Section. The expression 'Subject to general or special orders of the Government' is ambiguous. It may mean either that the action of the Dt. magte will have to be ratified by Govt or that Dt. magte can not act at all in case Govt restrict his powers in this behalf. It is not clear in what light the District magistrate of Bangalore understood this Section. Probably because he thought he was not restricted in exercise of his powers with reference to this particular Section, he invested Bench magistrate with the power in question. The whole question depends upon the interpretation of Sub-sect (2) of Section 190 Cri Proc Code.

69) It is not doubted that the powers which the Bench Magistrates in the Districts where the Separation Scheme has been introduced will be sufficient to enable them to carry out the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code. But the matter is being agitated by the Representative Assembly and the Government find it necessary to appoint a number of Special Courts established at certain places for the trial of certain offences. The Civil Courts and the District Magistrates consulted are in favour of leaving the Bench Courts with the powers which they now have. Any change would involve any extra expenditure to Government and the increase in the General Establishment of these Courts. But the District Magistrates consulted do not think that any change is necessary. The District Magistrate of Kalutara thinks that both the Police Magistrate's Courts should be abolished and the work done by the Bench Courts, a separate Court for the Outlying Districts being established under the Bench and Circuit Courts Ordinance if necessary. Final Note by the Third Member of Council.

Subject:-

Investing Benches of Honorary Magistrates in the Districts of Shimoga, Mysore and Kadur with powers under Section 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

87) The Benches of Honorary Magistrates are not empowered at present to take cognisance of cases upon complaints and Police reports and so the practice at present is to present the complaints and charge sheets to the Courts of Special Magistrates and Amildars and such of the cases as are triable by Bench Courts are transferred to their file under the orders of the District Magistrate. This is a source of inconvenience and great delay in the disposal of petty cases.- Complaints were made in the Representative Assembly and the matter was promised due consideration.

88) 2. To obviate the difficulty pointed out above, it was suggested by the Chief Secretary that the Benches of Honorary Magistrates might be invested with the power under Section 190(1), Clauses (a) and (b) viz to take cognisance upon complaints and Police reports. The opinion of the Chief Court and the District Magistrates of Bangalore, Mysore, Kadur and Shimoga was called for. They are all in favour of the proposal, but the District Magistrate of Shimoga qualifies his opinion by saying that the arrangement may be tried for a year. The District Magistrate of ~~Mysore~~ Bangalore has already invested the Benches with the powers in question.

89) 3. In reply to a further reference enquiring whether the proposed change will not necessitate an increase in the establishment of the Courts, all the District Magistrates, except the Kadur District Magistrate, have stated that the present staff can cope with the additional work.

4. The matter was considered in Council and they [illegible] of opinion that the Benches of Honorary Magistrates in the Districts of Mysore, Shimoga and Kadur may be invested with powers under Section 190 (1), clauses (a) and (b), Criminal Procedure Code.

None of these Courts has been empowered to take Cognizance of offences but they try only cases transferred to them and ordinarily only simple cases are transferred to them.

These Courts are likely to prove very useful in as much as they in Course of time be authorized to entertain private Complaints and take Cognizance on Police reports and when that stage is reached, they will afford substantial relief to the Special Magistrates of the 2nd Class.

Sir,

With reference to your No.11909-10 Cts. 18-19 dated 24th November 1919, I have the honor to state that none of the Benches of Magistrates in this District have been entrusted with powers under section 190 (1)clauses (a) and (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code in respect of offences falling under the Indian Penal Code but the Shimoga Bench has been empowered to take cognizance of cases falling under the Police Regulation, the Municipal Regulation and the Village Sanitation Rules.

2. As regards your querry as to whether these Benches may be entrusted with certain powers under section 190 (Criminal Procedure Code) my opinion is that the personnel of the Benches in some of the interior taluks is not altogether satisfactory owing to the difficult of getting competent men and there may be some amount of risk in entrusting powers of cognizance to these persons. Neverthless, the enormous distances which parties in this District have to travel if they have to file a compaaint constitute a genuine grievance and the grievance becomes accentuated during the monsoon. I would therefore recommend inspite of the discouraging considerations referred to above that as an experimental measure the Benches be entrusted with
